

church partnerships

We value relationship and believe in partnership without ownership. We love to train, encourage, network, and resource the church.

We don't do the usual mission organisation thing ('support us in what we are doing') but we ask 'how can we serve you in what God is calling you to do in the local church?' It's all about the church.

We 'link' with and actively help churches develop their own missions' strategy serving leaders who often feel that, with activists pulling in different directions, the tail is in danger of wagging the dog!

Consider Act4You Church Accounts and open a designated account. Links will receive your regular missions' investment and hold all funds strictly to your order. We'll talk with you and your team three times a year and discuss a range of investment options and projects that match your church vision.

We'd love to help your church manage missions teams, develop projects, develop a missions strategy and forge partnerships with churches in developing nations.

Links partners with the Ground Level team and network of churches in the UK.
